

ACIDS IN STOMACH
CAUSE INDIGESTIONCreate Gas, Sourness and Pain
How to Treat

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food more, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Eucalyptus Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no gas, no sourness, no pain. Eucalyptus Magnesia is a powder or tablet cream—never liquid or milky in texture—to the stomach, inexpensive to take and in the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Advt.

HUNT LOST FLYERSearch for Mansell R. James Narrows to Berkshires Near Millerton, Conn.

Search is on in earnest for Capt. Mansell R. James, the missing British flyer, who has been lost since Thursday, when he was making the return trip from Boston to Mineola after having won the Pulitzer prize.

Every known agency which man or science can suggest is being employed in the hunt for the lost ace. Aviators are sailing through the skies, automobiles are scurrying over the roads, boy scouts are scouring the woods and hundreds of telephone wires have been pressed into service.

The search has narrowed down to the woods of the lower ranges of the Berkshires near Millerton, Conn., and the general opinion is that Capt. James will be found before night with his Sopwith plane damaged and he himself badly injured from a fall.

At 10:35 o'clock this morning Col. Archie Miller took the air from the Hazelet Field at Mineola, which he commands, leading a squadron of three Curtiss airplanes, the other two leaving the field thirty minutes later. With Col. Miller was Lieut. Sherman R. Altick, and their route was to Stamford, Conn., then to Poughkeepsie and Albany, and possibly to Pittsfield, Mass., where, according to unofficial reports, James was seen.

The second plane carried Lieut. Ralph Starkweather and Jack Frost, whose stops were routed at Winsted, Stamford and Hartford, Conn. The third plane, piloted by Lieut. Lucas V. Beau, is to fly to Pittsfield, stopping at Hartford only.

The stop at Winsted is made for the reason that Lieut. D. D. Ashley Jr. of this city and formerly with the Royal Air Force for sixteen months, has reported that he saw Capt. James pass over Winchester on Thursday morning. Lieut. Ashley was then at his father's summer home. He says the British ace was up 5,000 feet on a southeasterly course with his engine running well.

Secretary Post of the Aero Club of America said a perfectly organized search was being made at Millerton, Conn. C. I. Johnson, a New York Central official, told the Secretary this morning that while at Millerton on Sunday he heard the noise of an overhead motor many times, but could not locate any machine. It is now believed the motor was that of Capt. James, who was operating it from time to time to attract attention to his position in the woods.

Secretary Post immediately got in touch by phone with Freight Agent H. R. Grant of the New York Central at Millerton. Later came word from Mr. Grant that Boy Scouts from Millerton and other points were searching in the lower ranges of the Berkshires for the missing ace. Also that George Brissie, proprietor of a garage at Millerton, had enlisted the services of several automobile owners, and that a fleet of machines was covering all the Connecticut roads.

Supt. F. A. Stevenson of the Telephone Company at Millerton phoned that his operators were calling up every subscriber, asking for information of the lost flyer.

3 CONFESS MURDER
OF CIGAR CLERK IN
HOLDUP IN BRONXBrothers Shoot Man Defending Employers' Cash in United Store.

Two brothers and their step-brother confessed to-day to the murder of Louis Klein, fifty-one years old of No. 378 Longwood Avenue, Bronx, who lost his life shortly before midnight in saving the cash in the United Cigar Store at No. 435 Westchester Avenue. The roundup was one of the quickest the police have to their credit.

Only two men were known to have been in the holdup. Klein, the clerk, was alone and is believed to have reached for a loaded revolver he kept near, since he was held up seven months ago in the same place. After firing a shot into his right breast, two men dashed out and one almost bowled over Mrs. R. J. Rosen of No. 791 Prospect Avenue. She saw him run up the stairs of the Prospect Elevated Station and told Policeman William Wubbenhorst of the Simpson Street Station.

The policeman arrested a man who said he was Joseph Soras, twenty-one, No. 375 Brook Avenue, an ex-sailor of the United States Navy, with a wife and child. While Capt. Wines was questioning him in the Morrisania Station, a sailor in uniform came in and asked why the policeman arrested his brother. He said he was Frank Soras, nineteen, stationed at the Marine Base, Ulmer Park. Mrs. Rosen identified Joseph Soras as one of the men, and finally he admitted it, and that his brother was the lookout. In searching Joseph Soras's home in Brook Avenue, the police found a notebook with the name John Egan, No. 243 West 38th Street. The Soras brothers said Egan did the shooting.

When Detective James Flynn got Egan out of bed he denied knowing anything about a holdup, but finally confessed, "Yes, I was there. Here's the shell."

The police found four other empty shells and asked Egan what the idea was in keeping them.

"I always keep them as souvenirs," he explained. When asked what the four extra ones were souvenirs of he replied:

"Oh, those four I put into my wife. On May 13 I shot my wife Lillian at No. 243 East Tenth Street. There's an alarm out for me. I had an argument with her and shot her in the head, stomach, mouth and right side."

The police recalled that the man sought had an artificial leg. They found Egan had one. Investigation showed Egan's right name is Giovanni Pugliese. The woman he shot had left him and resumed her maiden name, Lillian Wooscher. He called her out and shot her in the street, as he had said. She is recovering in Bellevue Hospital.

When taken before Assistant District Attorney Hatting, Egan and the others admitted they were stop-brothers. All they would say about shooting Klein was that "he made a false move." Klein died a few minutes after being taken to Lincoln Hospital without having recovered consciousness. Egan told Mr. Hatting it was his third cigar store holdup. The others, he said, were at No. 223 Avenue A, where he got $12 and at No. 223 First Avenue, where he got $20. One of the odd features of last night's job was that the man with a wooden leg was able to get away from the scene while the two with good legs were not.

ALL MINTS WORKING NIGHT
AND DAY ON PENNIES90,000,000 Cents Turned Out in Month, but Can't Meet the Demand.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Every mint in the United States has been put to work by Director Ray Baker turning out one cent pieces in an effort to keep pace with the enormous demand for the nation's least valuable coin. Instituting a twenty-four-hour day, the output has been raised to 90,000,000 cents a month.

"There have been approximately 2,500,000,000 one-cent pieces coined in this country," Mr. Baker said to-day, "but where they have gone is a mystery nobody seems able to solve."

The May output of the mints was 64,984,000 coins, of which 60,273,000 were one cent pieces. Nickels also were in large demand, 2,643,000, the remainder of the production being 223,000 half dollars, 174,000 quarters and 370,000 dimes. The money value of the output was $1,253,550.

PETROGRAD FALL REPORTED,
BUT LONDON DOUBTS ITCopenhagen Hears Estonians and Finns Have Captured Former Russian Capital.

LONDON, June 3 (United Press).—An Exchange Telegraph despatch from Copenhagen to-day quoted the Tidende Telegram as stating that Petrograd has been captured by Estonian and Finnish forces. The British War Office regards the report as untrue, its latest information indicating the advance on Petrograd had been slowed up.

LONDON, June 3 (Associated Press).—A Russian wireless message received here from Moscow says that Kheron, on the Dnieper, northeast of Odessa, was occupied by the Reds on Friday after fierce fighting.

The Bolsheviks have been faced with an insurrection in the Southern Ukraine and the force defeated at Kheron probably were Ukrainians who had revolted against the Soviets.

"Where the little advertisement builds big business."

Too Late for the May Issue—
Not too Early for the October Issue

JUST the other day a prospective advertiser, who found it was too late to insert his full page advertisement in the May issue of the "most used and most useful book in New York" called up and said, "But can't you print it on a separate sheet and paste it into each book later?"

It was impracticable, of course, considering the 1,110,000 circulation, but it was a mighty good illustration of the average advertiser's idea of the value of New York City Telephone Directory Advertising.

The point is this—quite a few prospective advertisers waited until too late to get their copy into the May issue so we are taking time by the forelock and suggesting that advertising arrangements for the October issue be made NOW.

The October issue will stay on the job alongside New York City telephones until it is replaced some time in February 1920. It will be consulted, according to conservative estimates, 3,000,000 times each day, and it will provide the same unusual publicity service that is bringing business today to hundreds of telephone directory advertisers, and that is causing these advertisers to renew their advertising issue after issue.

Telephone directory advertising should be of value to you.
Why not turn to your telephone now and ask for particulars?
